

Richardson Foundation UK deferred Tibetan Scholarship

Dharamsala: The Trustees of the Richardson Foundation UK has decided to defer the 2012 scholarship selection for Tibetans to 2013 on account of the global economic downturn and low investment returns. The scholarship was started way back in 1996 and it is being offered for one student to study four year undergraduate program in the UK. So far four students have received the scholarship.